

ACCOMMODATION POLICY

INTENT

CPC Logistics Canada is committed to providing an inclusive and barrier-free environment. The company will provide accommodation up to the point of undue hardship for needs arising from the prohibited grounds listed in the Human Rights Code. This policy outlines the accommodation process and the responsibilities of different parties in that process.

DEFINITIONS

Undue hardship: Occurs when providing an accommodation would cause excessive costs for the organization and outside sources of funding are unavailable or insufficient, or where the accommodation would create a health or safety hazard.

Reasonable Bona Fide Requirements: Pertains to the rule or standard that is integral to carrying out the requirements of a particular role, job or task within the workplace or pertaining to the work product. If a change to a job description, role, or task changes the workplace standard or rules to the point that it creates an undue hardship, it would be classified as a reasonable bona fide requirement of the role.

GUIDELINES

CPC Logistics Canada will accommodate individuals up to the point of undue hardship where work must be modified or adjusted based on a prohibited ground of discrimination under the Human Rights Code. These prohibited grounds include:

- Race;
- Ancestry;
- Place of origin;
- Colour;
- Ethnic origin;
- Citizenship;
- Creed;
- Sex (including pregnancy);
- Gender identity;
- Gender expression;
- Age;
- Sexual orientation;
- Record of offences;
- Marital status;
- Family status; and
- Disability.

This policy applies to all employees, volunteers, co-op students, interns, and apprentices of CPC Logistics Canada. Accommodations will be made available from the beginning of the recruitment and selection process. Applicants will be informed that accommodations are available upon request. Where an accommodation is requested, the company will consult with the applicant and provide or arrange for a suitable accommodation.

REQUESTING ACCOMMODATION

Individuals who require accommodation must make a written request to either the hiring manager at the time of hiring or their direct manager, during employment, indicating:

- The prohibited ground the accommodation relates to;
- Their needs arising from that protected ground; and
- If the person requesting the accommodation desires, some suggestions about what accommodation might meet their needs.

CPC Logistics Canada will take all requests for accommodation seriously and respond in a timely manner. Individuals who request accommodation will not be subject to negative repercussions for making such a request. Once an accommodation request is received and reviewed, CPC Logistics Canada will gather additional information if necessary and then create an accommodation plan.

Where an individual does not identify a need for accommodation but CPC Logistics Canada suspects an accommodation may be required, the duty to inquire will be engaged. CPC Logistics Canada will begin to fulfil its duty to inquire by engaging in private discussions with the individual to see whether there are any unmet needs related to a prohibited ground.

ACCOMMODATION PLANS

An individualized accommodation plan will be created in collaboration with the direct manager, human resources adviser, the individual who requires accommodation, any applicable healthcare professionals, and third-party experts as required. Any costs related to acquiring additional expert advice will be paid for by CPC Logistics Canada. Information beyond what was provided in the initial accommodation request may be required to determine appropriate accommodations; however, only information that is necessary to arrange the accommodation will be requested.

Short-term accommodations may be provided while long-term accommodations are put into place. Accommodations may be temporary or permanent, based on the circumstances and the needs of the individual.

The accommodation plan will be documented in writing and signed by both the individual requesting accommodation and their direct manager.

All information gathered related to the accommodation process and the final accommodation plan will be kept confidential and will only be shared as necessary to provide the accommodation.

APPROPRIATE ACCOMMODATIONS

The company will examine all options and implement accommodation that provides the individual with equal opportunity, benefits, and privileges to others and that respects their dignity, inclusion, and individual needs. The accommodation provided may not necessarily be the individual's preferred accommodation, but their preferences will be taken into consideration.

Accommodations may include:

- Work station adjustments;
- Job redesign;
- Changes to organizational policies and practices;
- Technical aids;
- Human support;
- Providing materials in alternative formats;
- Building modifications;
- Counselling and referral services;
- Temporary or permanent alternative work;
- Changes to performance standards;
- Leaves of absence;
- Changes to scheduling or hours of work; or
- Changes to work uniforms.

UNDUE HARDSHIP

If CPC Logistics Canada cannot accommodate an individual's needs without undue hardship, the individual will be provided with a written explanation outlining why the accommodation cannot be provided. If appropriate, CPC Logistics Canada will offer the next best accommodation option.

MONITORING

Accommodation plans will be monitored and reviewed regularly. If any changes to the workplace will affect the individual's accommodation, they will be informed of this promptly and the accommodation will be adjusted as needed.

CPC Logistics Canada recognizes that accommodation needs may change over time or require adjustment. Individuals on an accommodation plan should inform the company if their needs change or if their accommodation is not working effectively so that adjustments can be made.
