

ATTENDANCE MANAGEMENT AND ABSENTEEISM POLICY

INTENT:

CPC Logistics recognizes the importance of attendance and punctuality in maintaining productivity and achieving organizational goals. This Attendance Management and Absenteeism Policy is designed to establish clear guidelines and procedures for managing attendance issues, both culpable and non-culpable, in a fair and consistent manner.

DEFINITIONS:

1. Approved absence: Any absence authorized by the company under applicable policies, including leaves mandated by legislation or approved by management, such as sick leave, vacation, bereavement leave, or approved leaves of absence.
2. Culpable absenteeism: Absences that result from factors within the employee's control, such as failing to provide notice, unexcused tardiness, unauthorized leave, or repeated instances of arriving late or leaving early without valid reasons.
3. Non-culpable absenteeism: Absences resulting from factors beyond the employee's control, such as illness, disability, family emergencies, or other circumstances protected under employment laws.
4. Unapproved absence: Any absence that does not fall under an approved category and is considered either culpable or non-culpable.

GUIDELINES:

1. Absenteeism:

- a) CPC Logistics recognizes that regular attendance and punctuality are essential for maintaining operational efficiency. Occasional absences may be necessary due to illness or personal reasons, but employees are expected to minimize absences and be present and punctual as scheduled. Attendance is a crucial factor in achieving organizational goals.

2. Acceptable Absence Limits:

- a) Culpable Absences: No employee is allowed any unexcused absence without valid reasons. Repeated instances of tardiness or unauthorized absence may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

- b) Non-Culpable Absences: CPC Logistics understands that unforeseen circumstances may arise, resulting in non-culpable absences. However, excessive non-culpable absences that interfere with job performance may be subject to further review and possible corrective action.

3. Absence Reporting:

- a) Employees are required to notify their immediate supervisor or designated personnel promptly in case of an absence, stating the reason for the absence and the expected duration.
- b) If the absence is due to illness or medical reasons, employees may be required to provide appropriate documentation, such as a doctor's note, as per company policy.
- c) Failure to provide timely and accurate notification of an absence may be considered a violation of this policy and may lead to disciplinary action.

4. Attendance Management Procedure:

- a) All managers have the responsibility to track and manage employee attendance, ensuring compliance with this policy.
- b) Managers shall conduct attendance review meetings with employees to address unapproved absences, determine their nature (culpable or non-culpable), and provide appropriate support or disciplinary action as needed.
- c) Attendance review meetings should be conducted in a respectful and confidential manner, allowing employees an opportunity to provide their perspective on the absence.
- d) Managers shall maintain accurate records of attendance review meetings and any supporting documentation.

5. Attendance Improvement Plans:

- a) In cases where an employee's absences exceed acceptable limits, an attendance improvement plan may be implemented.
- b) The plan should clearly identify the causes of the absences, establish measurable goals for improvement, and outline any support or accommodations that the company may provide.
- c) Regular checkpoints should be set to assess progress and provide feedback to employees.

6. Progressive Discipline:

- a) If an employee's attendance fails to improve despite the implementation of an attendance improvement plan, progressive discipline may be applied, as outlined in the company's progressive discipline policy.

7. Termination for Excessive Absenteeism:

- a) Termination for excessive absenteeism should be considered as a last resort, after all reasonable efforts to address the issue have been exhausted.
- b) Any decision to terminate an employee for excessive absenteeism should be made in compliance with all applicable employment laws and after consultation with HR and legal counsel.

Conclusion:

CPC Logistics' Attendance Management and Absenteeism Policy aims to ensure a productive work environment by setting clear expectations for attendance and addressing both culpable and non-culpable absences in a fair and consistent manner. Compliance with this policy is crucial for maintaining operational efficiency and achieving organizational goals.
